NIGEL MARVEN TO HEADLINE
AT THE NORTH AMERICAN REPTILE CONFERENCE

August 28, 2006, Anaheim, CA – The stars of Snakes on a Plane have nothing on Nigel Marven! From sharks to alligators to anacondas, Nigel has proven he can hold his own in the animal kingdom! You may have seen him hosting Discovery's Shark Week; Nigel's Wild, Wild World or Chased by Sea Monsters. Now he's starring in Animal Planet's new blockbuster Prehistoric Park in the fall. The host, film-maker and author will appear at the third annual North American Reptile Conference and Trade Show on Saturday and Sunday, September 23-24 at the Anaheim Convention Center. Nigel will be available to meet fans and sign autographs and will deliver a talk on "Reptile Filming Around the World: From Dinosaurs to Komodo Dragons!" Saturday at 3 p.m. The lecture is free with the purchase of a show ticket.

"We're thrilled to have Nigel Marven as our special guest at this year's event. Nigel is one of the most well-respected film-makers in the industry and quite a personality at that," notes Bob Ashley, a producer of the Reptile Conference. "It's a real honor for our conference to host such a talent and showgoers are sure to have a unique experience if they come to meet Nigel – nobody has better stories!" Ashley added.

Nigel's new show "Prehistoric Park" is already a huge hit in the U.K. and Australia and is sure to have a large following in the U.S. The program launches at the end of October on Animal Planet and will present Nigel in a new challenging setting: going back in time to rescue prehistoric animals from extinction and bringing them back to the ultimate wildlife sanctuary. Each episode involves a different prehistoric adventure as he heads back in time to save creatures. In the process he experiences some of Earth's most devastating extinctions and finds out what caused them. You can find out more about Nigel at www.nigelmarven.com.
